CONGRESS AWAKE AT LAST, SAYS TRIBUNE'S CORRESPONDENT AT CAPITOL

COMMENT ON SOME THINGS HAPPENING AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

BY ROBERT B. EDSON.
Special Correspondent for St. Cloud Tribune.
Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.

Congress Awake At Last!

Congress is all at sea, and both houses are in the same boat. The voyage is an unexpected one and the destination is uncertain. There never has been anything like it before; and it all has happened suddenly by the regular schedule being knocked into a cocked hat. In fact, it is as if a volcano that has been smoldering months under the Capitol dome had quickly belched forth and sent everything scattering.

President Wilson's letter to the House asking it to forego its recess was the first quake that was felt.

Right on top of that came the avalanche of protests against the steadily rising prices for food.

Another big shock was the railroad problem—proposed strike for increased wages, etc.

Things were happening so fast and furious that members began to more than sit up and take notice. They held fast to their seats and began to wonder "What's coming next?"

In the Senate, the peace treaty held no interest. It suddenly became a matter that was too far away from base. The home fires needed quenching. Hurry calls were made for conferences. Clerks and pages began to scout around and gather in absent members. Telegraph and telephone wires began to hum as not for a long time. The old Capitol appeared like an ant hive must look when some one on top of the ground places his foot on the entrance hole.

Congress is awake at last! It is hearing the voice of the people, but not with its ear to the ground. Instead, the voice is as loud that it sounds as if it is coming thru a megaphone.

Recess in the House has been forgotten. Democrats and Republicans are hurrying to revise their programs.

Keep your eyes on Congress now if you want a pretty fair view of fireworks and to see some real good come from them for the benefit of a burdened people.

Lands For Soldiers.

The Mondell bill providing farm lands for soldiers, which follows the lines recommended by Secretary Lane, has made a good headway in the House and is sure of passage when it comes to a vote. It carries $300,000,000 for working capital.

One amendment offered provides no conscientious objector can become a beneficiary, and that soldiers are to be favored in administrative positions in connection with development of the various colonizing projects.

Soldiers will find the plan to their liking. It will open the way to work and to homes on land that can be acquired cheaply; it provides for development of large tracts of land now held by private owners and it provides temporary employment for large numbers of discharged soldiers and sailors while the land projects are being developed.

League Of Nations Strong In Washington.

Citizens of Washington at last can vote! An enterprising newspaper has opened polls to determine the sentiment in the national capital regarding the League of Nations. Polling places are established in clubs, hotels, and office buildings. Votes are accepted by mail also. Out of a grand total of 1,345 votes, covering several days, the results so far are:

For the league with reservations, 557.

For the league without reservations, 410.

Against the league, 378.

Department of Agriculture Will Keep Tab On Road Conditions.

New work for the Weather Bureau! The Secretary of Agriculture has approved the activity added to the work of this branch of his department and known as the "highway weather service." It has to do with making reports on condition of roads from day to day, as well as probabilities of sunshine or storm along them.

Tried out with success in a few States, this new service is to be operated throughout the country on lines similar to that of forecasting weather. Road information and weather prediction will be given on the same card.

This means that an automobilist can consult the Weather Bureau card or call up a local branch and find out what kind of "going" is ahead of him on his intended routes; or he can get that information in the postoffice of the villages en route, where the cards for the day always will be on view.

So far, twelve States and the District of Columbia have applied for the mail-roads and bad-weather service.

Government Clerks Are Spoiled.

The Government clerks in Washington always are wanting something. It seems. All in all, they have things "pretty soft," as it were, but nevertheless they always are crying out for more.

They have thirty days' annual leave from their duties each year, thirty days' sick leave, convenient working hours, lots of other holidays from time to time, and pretty good pay (most of them); but the truth is that they are like spoiled children.

All thru the summer they have been released from work at 1 o'clock. Now they want to get away from work at 1 o'clock on every Saturday the year around.

It is a good thing that the Government does not run its affairs like a private corporation or business, or else it would have to go out of business because of too many clerks, short hours, and general leniency all around.

Nor is this any new condition. It is an inheritance from past generations.

Department Of Justice Fixing Its "Teeth" For Profiters.

After all has been said and done in Congress as to whatever action is taken in regard to the President's recommendations as to stopping the "vicious practices" largely responsible for the high cost of living, it will be the Department of Justice that will have the burden placed upon it of putting and keeping the machinery in motion to accomplish the REAL results.

For some time the Attorney-General has had the entire secret service of his bureau at work assisting other forces now collecting evidence of gouging by illegal control of prices, the investigation.

INTERESTING HAPPENINGS AT COUNTY CAPITAL BY REGULAR CORRESPONDENT

BY CELESTE J. FRIPP.

Kissimmee's greatest physical asset is beautiful Lake Tohopekaliga, stretching fifteen miles southward, sending its waters to both gulf and ocean, and adorned by islands—Paradise, Prairie, and Oliver. Yet this most available is most neglected. The S. H. Bullock feature of joyous, wholesome recreation is most neglected. The members of the S. H. Bullock family are almost the only ones who get real pleasure from this source. With their boats, the Dot and the Coot, they have given to many people joyous hours, some of which have lengthened into days and weeks of happy camping trips. Some time ago the Dot, a beautiful launch, was sold and taken to ply Fort Myers waters. The Coot, which is equipped with cooking and sleeping facilities, recently has been overhauled, and these pleasant evenings it rides far out over our summer sea with happy parties, probably stopping at Paradise Island for a picnic luncheon.

Young people of the Christian church had a swimming party Friday night. Several automobiles carried the merry-makers to Lake Conway, where the real fun began—picnic supper and water sports.

Mrs. H. E. Rosen and her daughter for health recuperation. Before returning home, they will visit several West Coast resorts.

Miss Gladys Casler of Bermuda avenue has been in the Fornosa sanitarium many weeks, having undergone two serious surgical operations.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Earl Cowger spent the week end in Kissimmee. They always are welcome to their many friends here, especially in church and school circles.

Mrs. Vernon Ellis and her sister, Grace Eleanor Graves, are with the Kissimmee ocean-beach colony at Daytona.

Mrs. Otis Roundtree and her little son, Juan, have returned from a visit to Wauchula, Fla., her former home when she was the popular Miss Juanita Vaughn.

The visit here of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bullock has been much enjoyed by their many friends, especially those in the Methodist church. Mrs. Bullock (formerly Miss Alma Griffin) pleased the church audiences very much with her beautiful solos. Mr. Bullock has returned to their Miami home, where he holds a responsible position in a bank. Mrs. Bullock will remain until September with her parents, the C. W. Griffins.

How Co-Operative Dairying Built A Community

HOW SOME PENNSYLVANIA FARMERS OBTAIN INCOME OF NEARLY $400,000 ANNUALLY WHERE FORMERLY THEY GOT ALMOST NOTHING.

Third and Last Article.

BY J. C. McDOWELL.

Agriculturist of the Dairy Division of the Bureau of Animal Industry.

Two Bull Associations Organized.

In connection with the cooperative dairy operating at Grove City, Pa., two co-operative bull associations (Jersey and Holstein-Friesian) have been organized since development of the dairy work was begun.

These are farmers' organizations, the purpose of which is the joint ownership, use, and exchange of three or more high-class registered bulls.

Each association is divided into sections or blocks, with one bull to each block. Each of the Grove City associations comprises four blocks, and each requires that all its members shall agree to have their herds tested for tuberculosis under the State and Federal accredited-herd plan.

Costs Each Member Only $75 For Bulls In Eight Years.

The Holstein-Friesian Bull Association was organized about two years ago by twenty-five farmers, who subscribed $75 each. With this money, they purchased four registered Holstein sires of meritorious breeding. They divided their territory into four breeding blocks and placed one bull near the center of each block. To avoid in-breeding, the sires are changed from one block to another every two years. In that way the bulls can be used eight years. This twenty-five herds are provided with good sires through eight years at an initial cost of $75 to each farmer and at a maintenance cost of about one-sixth of what it would be if each herd were headed by a scrub bull. While no records of the daughters are obtainable, the calves, in their conformation, show evidence of high production and give promise of high production.

The Jersey Bull Association was organized a little less than two years ago. Its territory was divided into four breeding blocks and a registered bull was purchased to head the herds in each block. All the bulls have register-of-merit dams. The average production of the dams at the age of two years was equivalent to 500 pounds of butter a year. When the co-operating association supplies the figures, as it will in about two years, it will be very interesting to compare the records of the daughters with those of their dams.

A Revelation To Cow Owners.

The members of both bull associations are very enthusiastic over the results so far achieved. The following are some of the remarks made by members:

"I thought my bull pretty good until the association came."

"My cows are not good enough to breed to that bull. I must have better cows."

"I lost a year by not having a good bull sooner."

Many of the members of the bull associations have purchased pure-bred cows, and the cows and bulls are so selected that constructive breeding is being conducted along definite lines. In the community, more than forty pure-bred herds have been established with in the year last past.

Guernsey Breeders' Association.

The Guernsey breeders at Grove City organized in March of 1917. At that moment only ten registered Guernseys, most of which were bulls used in improving their grade herds. Today the association consists of twenty-eight members, owning seventy-one registered Guernseys, and every member owns, either outright or jointly, a carefully selected registered sire.

All members are required to have their herds tested under the accredited-herd plan. On July 15, 1918, they adopted the following resolution:

"Any person, to be eligible to membership, in the Grove City Guernsey Breeders' Association, must either already have had his herd tested under the accredited-herd plan or have his herd signed up for the accredited-herd plan."

The dairy farmers in the Grove City community are determined tuberculosis shall not exist among their herds. More than 100 herds in the vicinity have time the eighteen charter members been "signed up" already under the accredited-herd plan, and many of them now are being tested. So far, few diseased animals have been found.

Under the accredited-herd plan, the State and Government veterinarians test the herds annually free of charge to the owners. After a herd has passed two annual or three semi-annual tuberculin tests, the owner receives a certificate from the State and the Federal Government showing that the herd is accredited as free from tuberculosis. This guarantees to the owner and to the public that, so far as science can determine, the herd is free from that disease. At the present time, three State and Government veterinarians are engaged in this work in the Grove City district.

For a while at first there was some objection to the tuberculosis test, and in some of the outlying districts there still may be some who object to it. One farmer remarked:

"Some of my neighbors were kind of plying me—that I didn't have any more sense than to have my herd tested."

His herd was tested and found free of tuberculosis. The owner considers that every animal in the herd is worth 25 per cent more than it was before the test.

This farmer was especially pleased that the calf belonging to his 14-year-old boy was free from tuberculosis. The boy is a wide-awake member of the club, and in 1917 his calf, in competition with many others, won the first prize at the Stoneboro fair.

Club Work Of Boys And Girls.

Cattle Club was organized more than a year ago. The Boys' and Girls' Pure-Bred Dairy year ago, with fifty-three members. Every boy and girl has stuck to the work; and of the young people growing up in that community, at least this number have an added interest in farming because of the existence of the creamery in Grove City.

The boys and the girls are proud of their calves. They have learned to feed these animals balanced rations and to give them sanitary surroundings. It is quite evident that—in some cases, at least—the calves belonging to the club members have been the direct cause that brought about remodeling of old barns. Parents naturally take pride in the constructive work of their children, and in the Grove City section the children have not lacked home encouragement in their club work.

In addition to the dairy club, there are pig clubs, garden clubs, canning clubs, and a club recently organized under the direction of the county agent and known as the Young Farmer Club, to belong to which one must have won a prize in some worth-while contest.

Cattle Club was not organized for a single season, nor to see how much cash profit could be made from buying calves in the spring and selling them in the autumn. It is a long-time proposition and is educational in its design. The real contest will reach its point of greatest interest when the heifer calves become cows and the members of the club compete in feeding for highest economical production.

Dairy Buildings Improved.

In spite of the war and the high cost of building materials, the year just passed has seen the construction of twenty-five new silos and fifty-seven old barns remodelled and thoroughly renovated. The remodeling of old barns usually has been done at slight expense.

Concrete floors were laid in twenty-five dairy barns, up-to-date stanchions were placed in nineteen, and more and

18,533 CATTLE DIPPED IN OSCEOLA COUNTY DURING LAST MONTH

State-wide tick-eradication sentiment has been stimulated by the decision of the Florida Supreme Court that the law authorizing the State Live-Stock Sanitary Board to promulgate rules and regulations for conducting systematic tick-eradication work is constitutional.

The test case originated in Escambia county, where one of the cattle owners refused to dip his cattle because he did not think the board could make him do so. He knows better now, and about the only satisfaction he can get out of his contrariness is that he has helped to clear the atmosphere of the idea that perhaps the law was not enforceable.

The board has announced a policy of vigorous action in all counties where systematic tick eradication is established, and it will encourage establishment of that work in counties which may be ready by next spring.

Eradication of cattle ticks will do more for the development of the community dairy in Osceola county than any other thing, for high-class cows can not safely be brought in here from Northern States until the tick menace is removed, and the tick-tolerant cows which are obtainable are a poor lot, generally speaking.

The tick-free counties of Palm Beach, Broward, and Dade are shipping large numbers of fine cows from tick-free herds and are establishing real dairy-farming development.

The cattle owner in Osceola county voluntarily dipped 18,533 cattle last month to protect them from cattle ticks.

SEPT. 1 IS LAST DATE FOR GROWERS TO BOOK WITH CITRUS EXCHANGE

H. C. Plano, who is manager of the claim department handles the matter, and it has made a wonderful record in getting what is due to the growers in this way.

One of the best points of the exchange is the fact that it packs fruit in the most modern of packing-houses, with improved machinery and up-to-date methods, and where expert help assures the most careful handling of fruit, its proper assortment into sizes, and the affixment of a brand adopted by the exchange and which has become known nationally and which readily distinguishes Florida citrus fruit from that produced by any other section.

The record of the exchange, taken year in and year out, has shown a better return to its members for their fruit than they could obtain by any other method of shipping and selling.

Mr. Plano, as manager of the Osceola county branch of the exchange, at Kissimmee, has been giving most satisfactory service to the exchange's members in this section. Since his management began, it has been necessary to enlarge very materially the already large packing-house under his charge, in order to care for the products of the increased number of citrus growers who have taken advantage of the exchange's crop-handling and crop-selling methods.

The exchange has gone into the business of marketing car-load shipments of vegetables also.

NO ELECTION UNTIL SUPREME COURT ACTS IF APPEAL BOND IS ARRANGED

Monday there was a ray of hope that the city political squabble would be settled within the next thirty days, and that things would settle down to real business again, when the report gained circulation that Mayor L. Q. Bower had decided to call an election to name a city treasurer, after the appeal bond filed recently in the appeal of the mandamus case had been rejected by the Supreme Court on Saturday last.

Tuesday the matter had proceeded so far that the election proclamation was prepared for the mayor's signature, but on Wednesday afternoon P. Rothrock, H. W. Hlman, E. T. Hopkins, and others called on the mayor and succeeded in persuading him to change his mind, to refuse to call an election until the Supreme Court had passed on his appeal from the order of the Circuit Court, prevailing on the mayor to proceed with trying to make a legitimate bond as security against any damage that may be caused to the city or to individual citizens because of the delay due to appealing the case to the Supreme Court.

The mayor's change of mind comes as a keen disappointment to citizens of St. Cloud who had learned the mayor was thinking of ending the court squabble by calling an election to select a city treasurer.

The bond originally filed in the appeal of the mandamus case contained the names of nineteen men beside that of the mayor, but on Saturday of last week the question of the sufficiency or regularity of the bond was contested, with the result that the Supreme court issued the following order:

In the Supreme Court of Florida, June Term, A. D. 1919: Saturday, August 16, 1919.—L. Q. Bower, as Mayor of the City of St. Cloud, Florida, Plaintiff in Error, Vs. State of Florida ex rel. Fred B. Kenney, Defendant in Error.

This cause is this day submitted to the court upon motion of counsel for relator to vacate the supersedeas herein; and, same having been duly considered, it is ordered and adjudged by the court that the said motion to vacate the supersedeas in said cause will stand granted unless the respondent shall file a bond in compliance with the order of the Circuit Judge within thirty days from the date of the entry of final judgment in the cause.

State of Florida, County of Leon:

I, G. T. Whitfield, clerk of the Supreme Court of the State of Florida, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing page contains a true and correct copy of the order made and entered by said Supreme Court August 16th, A. D. 1919, in the cause as therein styled as the same appears on file and of record in my office, at Tallahassee, Florida.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Supreme Court this 16th day of August, A. D. 1919.

(Seal.) G. T. WHITFIELD,
Clerk Supreme Court State of Florida.

The assignment of error filed by the attorneys for the mayor sets out in addition to the claim that the circuit judge erred in granting the writ of mandamus that the court also erred in deciding that the appointment by the mayor of W. A. Arrowsmith as treasurer was illegal, and other points that, however, the assignment filed says were not stated in the order, but were in effect what the order had decided by inference. The assignment of errors filed in the case is as follows:

In Circuit Court for the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit of the State of Florida, in and For Osceola County.—State of Florida ex rel. Fred B. Kenney, Complainant, Vs. L. Q. Bower, as Mayor of the City of St. Cloud, Florida, Defendant.—Mandamus.—Assignment of Errors.

Comes now L. Q. Bower, as mayor of the city of St. Cloud, Florida, and, pursuant to the issuance of writ of error in the above cause from the final judgment therein entered on the 30th day of July, A. D. 1919, at the time of filing written directions to the clerk for making up transcript of record upon said writ of error, hereby assigns the following errors to the ruling of the judge of the above court to be considered upon the said writ of error:

1. The court erred in granting the petition for alternative writ of mandamus and issuing said alternative writ in said cause.

2. The court erred in denying defendant's motion to quash the alternative writ.

3. The court erred in denying defendant's demurrer to the alternative writ.

4. The court erred in granting the motion for peremptory writ.

5. The court erred in issuing peremptory writ in said cause.

6. The court erred in finding, in effect, that the answer and return filed by defendant did not present an adequate defense to the alternative writ.

7. The court erred in finding that a vacancy existed in the office of city treasurer at this time.

8. The court erred in ordering the mayor to call an election to fill the office of city treasurer.

9. The court erred in finding that the ordinance set out in the alternative writ with reference to elections is consistent with the new charter and therefore effective at this time.

10. The court erred in requiring an election to fill the office of city treasurer in the absence of making any provision for the registration of voters under the new charter or under the old charter or for said election.

11. The court erred in finding that the appointment of W. A. Arrowsmith, as alleged in the answer, was not a pro-tempore appointment, justified by the charter powers of the mayor.

12. The court erred in finding that the resignation of W. G. King, as alleged in the alternative writ, was not such a disability as could be filled by pro-tempore appointment by the mayor.

13. The court erred in adjudicating this cause in the absence of the members of the City council as parties defendant.

14. The court erred in finding that the mayor had power to call an election.

15. The court erred in granting the motion for a peremptory writ after denying the motion to strike filed by the relator to the defendant's return.

16. The court erred in not finding that a full, adequate, and complete remedy existed for the condition of things as alleged in the alternative writ other than the remedy of mandamus.

17. The court erred in failing to find that W. A. Arrowsmith was duly appointed by the City Council in accordance with the charter.

THE BEAUTY AND SUBLIMITY OF FLORIDA SUNSETS

One evening last week, when the Tribune writer was quietly paddling in the pleasant waters that have the foundations of the Roby-Foster bathing pavilion.

He raised in pleased exclamation nearly above the writer's head as she called to some one (name not distinguished): "O Mr. ————, come and look at this glorious sunset!"

Mr. ———— and others came and attested their appreciation of the gorgeous and colorful scene in the fire-flamed heights of the western sky, and the Tribune man attests that they had an inspiring spectacle to behold.

Diminished, indeed, must be the faculty of sublimity in the mind of that man or woman whose admiration is not aroused by the sunsets and sunrises that are so common in St. Cloud and elsewhere in Florida.

The Master Kaleidoscopist of the Universe seems to have focused all the colors of the prism into scores of blendings and shades in painting the skies of Florida at eventide and dawn.

Relative to the magnificent and beautiful aerial scenery which so oft is offered to the view of residents of Florida, a Dr. McGregor lately is quoted in the Fellsmer (Fla.) Tribune as follows:

"Like all tropical countries, there is no drawn-out dawn or dusk in Florida. You are enjoying the day, and are plunged into night; you are dreaming in the night, and wake into day; but as the Sun approaches its bedtime, the various pictures that are thrown in mingled colors on the canvas of the sky are wonderful to behold.

"I was moved and thrilled as, with a party of picnickers, we were returning from down the bay. The masterpieces of De Vinci, Raphael, and Angelo would pale before such scenes. The sublime in mountains, such as Pike's peak, Mount Hood, Mount Shasta, and Mount Low, are here surpassed by creations of clouds that rise and tower into the dome of blue.

"Speak of the mountain ranges, as the Rockies, the Sierras, and the Alleghenies—here they are on a grander scale, with canyons gorgeous and clear and deep pools of water.

"So it went from small to great in endless confusion. It was as if the Omnipotent had dipped his brush in all the colors of the spectrum and had reproduced on a gigantic standard the imagery of continent and sea, mountain and valley, forest and plain, city and cathedral. No color was missing. Each was present in all its distinctness, in all blendings of the precious tones. In one direction, the bright green of the emerald predominated, while in another, it is the apple green of the chrysopease. Here is the pure deep-indigo blue of the sapphire; there the bluish violet of the amethyst; yonder the pale blue of the sapphire; there the bluish on the rich blue of the lapislazuli. Here there is a production with the deep red of the ruby as a background, and further on is another with the red of the

"Again—the scenes have changed. Towering mountains, made of the white, brown, black, and red of the coryx.

"All around in the Florida sky gallery there is creation after creation, containing the snow white of the milk quartz, and the green, red, and blue of the fire opal, varying from opaqueness to transparency. No color is omitted.

"Such as this charms into praise and worship of Him whose touch is ever perfect, and it reminds that the heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament shows His handiwork."

The spring, summer, and autumn sunsets and sunrises in Florida are more magnificent than are those of its winter season. This is another reason for visiting or remaining in Florida in summer—for those who appreciate the sublimities of nature.

DEATH OF MAJ. JOHN ALDRICH, 95 YEARS OLD.

To Editor of St. Cloud Tribune:

I am sending you under separate cover the Laconia Democrat, our local paper, containing the announcement of the death of my uncle, Maj. John Aldrich.

We spent the winter of 1910-11 in St. Cloud, stopping at the New St. Cloud hotel at first, after which we moved to the Muse house, on Pennsylvania avenue. My uncle enjoyed the winter there and made many friends, some of whom still are living there.

He was interested in the growth and development of your city and wished to visit it again, but his advanced age prevented him doing so.

The St. Cloud Tribune he read with interest, and even watched for its coming.

No doubt the city has improved wonderfully, and it is my sincere wish to be a visitor there once more.

Very respectfully yours,
EDNA M. WARDWELL,
36 Manchester Street, Lakeport, N. H.,
Aug. 11, 1919.

(From Laconia Democrat, Laconia, N. H., Aug. 1.)

In the death of Maj. John Aldrich, which occurred at his home (36 Manchester street) at an early hour Tuesday morning, Lakeport lost its oldest citizen and a man who for more than seventy years had been prominent in the business and fraternal life of the town.

Maj. Aldrich who was a veteran of the Civil War, was 95 years old and had made his home in this city more than seventy-five years. He had watched the village grow into one of the leading manufacturing cities of New Hampshire.

Maj. Aldrich was born in Franconia on June 1, 1824. He was the second son of John and Hannah (Cole) Aldrich. He married Mary Elizabeth, daughter of John A. and Mary (Ryan) Cole, April 12, 1846, at Lakeport—then Lake Village. She died March 23, 1907, at

In 1857 he acquired the interest of his uncle, John A. Cole, in Cole, Davis & Co., afterward the Cole Manufacturing Company.

He enlisted Sept. 16, 1862, as a private, and was elected captain by the enlisted men going with him from Lake Village and vicinity. His was Company A, Fifteenth New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry. He received his commission as captain Nov. 2, 1862. He was promoted to major April 8, 1863, and was mustered out Aug. 12, 1863.

Many years he was superintendent of the Wardwell Needle Company of Lakeport, retiring from business several years ago and enjoying the later years of his life at his pleasant home, 36 Manchester street.

He was the oldest living past master of Mount Lebanon Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and was present at the 100th anniversary exercises of the lodge, held at Laconia June 1 last. He was a member also of Chocoma Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Lakeport.

In 1917 he published a book from his pen entitled "Lakeport's Ancient Homes," which was an interesting volume of history of the early days of Lake Village and Lakeport.

Maj. Aldrich is survived by two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Lane of Los Angeles, Cal., and Miss Martha Aldrich of Japan; two nieces, Mrs. Marion L. Day and Mrs. Ella M. Stone; two grandnieces, Misses Edna Wardwell and Alice Wardwell, and two grand-nephews, H. H. Wardwell and C. J. A. Wardwell.

The funeral services, at the request of the deceased, were private, at the home, Thursday afternoon, and were conducted by Rev. W. H. Getchell of Pittsfield, assisted by Rev. Benjamin Lomax of this city. Interment was in the family lot in Hillside cemetery.

LEADING ADVERTISING AIDS GOVERNMENT.

That aid advertising is taking a prominent place in our Government's councils, says the Washington Herald, is shown by the presence recently of William H. Rankin of Chicago in Washington.

Mr. Rankin is president of the William H. Rankin Company and is one of the leaders among the advertising men of the United States. He is president of the United States. He was the first person to suggest paid advertising to Government officials at the outset of the late war. It was he who laid the foundation for the Red Cross and Liberty Loan advertising on the basis that patriotic business men should pay for Government advertising during the war. This plan resulted in millions of dollars' worth of advertising for war enterprises without cost to the Government.

Mr. Rankin's trip to Washington this time was at the invitation of high officials of the Government, who wished the advantage of having his counsel on advertising matters.

At the conclusion of the Government's advertising activities in connection with the war, Carl Byoir, associate chairman of the Committee on Public Information, said:

"If I were asked to name the man who, without title or honor or distinction, devoted himself most completely to the service of wartime advertising, I could not honestly mention any other name than that of William H. Rankin."

When asked what was the best thing citizens could do to help their home town, Mr. Rankin said:

"Back up the daily newspapers. The future of a city depends on the strength and circulation of its daily newspapers. Get behind them. Help them to get subscribers, and get every merchant in the city to advertise in these papers regularly. It will build business for them, and the newspapers will build a better city. A city is judged by the newspapers it supports."

An incident of Mr. Rankin's visit to Washington was his meeting with Representative James W. Dunbar of New Albany, Ind. It was Mr. Dunbar who gave Mr. Rankin his first job—that of lighting street lamps in New Albany.

WHY THAT LAME BACK?

That morning lameness—those sharp pains when bending or lifting—makes work a burden and rest impossible. Don't be handicapped by a bad back. Look to your kidneys. You will make no mistake by following his Orlando resident's example.

S. N. Matthews, carpenter, Magnolia hotel, Boone and South streets, Orlando, Fla., says: "The first symptom of kidney trouble in my case was backache, which came on me last summer. I had such pain in my back that I had to be taken home in a buggy, as I couldn't walk. My kidneys acted too freely, and I had to get up often at night. There was a severe pain in the back of my head, too. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and four boxes cured the backache and made my kidneys so well that I have had no trouble since."

Price, 60 cents—at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy. Get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Matthews had. Foster-Milburn Co., mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (Adv.)

THE COSMETIC OF THE INANIMATE.

I am the saver of surfaces.
I am the world-old preserver.
Noah knew me, for he pitched the ark within and without.
The Pharaohs sought me as an adornment for their tombs—their mummies endure because I conserve.
I am the woad of the ancient Britons: their blue battle hue.
Because of me the treasures of the Sistine Chapel defy effacement.
I am the keeper of the antique.
I am the servant of progress.
Columbus found me bedecking the savages who watched him plant Ferdinand's banner on the shores of New Spain; and the very sails of his caravels resisted the elements of the West through my aid.
The pioneers westward wending their way daubed the prairie schooners with my protection.
I am the royal robes of civilization's monarchs, Steel and Lumber.
The taut wings of the airplane gleam under my protective veneer.
The sullen dreadnaught and the homing transport plow the seas impervious to corrosion because of me.
I waterproofed your agents of destruction, the bullet and the shell.
Then I drew the mercy of my concealing camouflage over your hospitals.
I glisten on the homes, and on the barns, and on the cement surfaces.
Where life is, I am alive.
Where death and decay set in my absence hastens them.
And my mission is to preserve.
Saver of Surface, I am PAINT!

HUNTER IS NOT ONE OF CALAMITY HOWLERS.

George E. Hunter (on Kentucky avenue between Seventh and Eighth) has faith in Florida generally and in St. Cloud particularly. He uttered this confidence in a letter written to a friend at North Vernon, Ind., and Mr. Hunter thereby got his name in his old-home newspaper, the North Vernon Plain Dealer, for the friend had the letter published in that journal of Aug. below.

Mr. Hunter's attitude is a rebuke to 14 date, from which it is reproduced SOME citizens of St. Cloud (thank Heaven! they are comparatively few). While his personal interests and general viewpoint have led him to vote with our Town Fusers, he refuses to accept the view taken by the more fussy of them—that our town is gone to scrap pile unless they are placed in charge of its governmental affairs.

If all of the town-fussing element were like Mr. Hunter, there would not be any town fuss in St. Cloud today. He and other reasonable citizens know all such troubles are seldom more than passing incidents in a community's life and growth and that it soon will pass away; and that even if it does not, the community, like other communities that have experienced similar contentions, will continue to develop when it possesses advantages that attract sensible people—such as St. Cloud possesses.

The Tribune commends Mr. Hunter's attitude to some of our citizens who seem to lack his good sense in this respect. His letter to his Indiana friend follows.

Tells About Florida.

(From Plain Dealer, North Vernon, Ind.)
George E. Hunter, formerly of this county, but who now resides at St. Cloud, Fla., has the following to say for Florida in a letter recently written to a friend in this city:

"In regards to Florida, I have been here over two years, and I will say that this is a great cattle and citrus-fruit country. The man who can come here and buy up a lot of cheap grazing land and a bunch of cattle will soon be sure of a good income from the increase of his herd. Hogs also do well on the ranges. Or a few hundred dollars invested in a good, choice piece of high land, covered with live-oak, water-oak, and black oak, with five or ten acres set out in oranges and grapefruit, well cared for, will in six to eight years pay big dividends on the investment. This land now can be bought around or near St. Cloud for $65 to $100 per acre. Five-year-old groves sell for $800 per acre, and increase in value each year.

"St. Cloud is a good town for the old soldier, retired farmer, and business man. Good schools and eight churches here; 2 grocery, dry-goods, hardware, and drug stores. Located on a large lake; boating, bathing, and fishing. No snow nor ice. Fine climate. Oranges, grapefruit, lemons, tangerines, bananas, peaches, and grapes grow here to perfection; also strawberries and blackberries.

"If you are tired of shoveling snow and coal, and have a good income, so you can live easy, and in a town of Northern people here in Florida, don't fail to investigate the opportunities offered by St. Cloud."

PREPARING STATE FAIR

The Florida State Fair and Exposition, the doors of which will be opened for its 1919 season in Jacksonville on Nov. 22 and will continue thru to Nov. 29, has adopted as its slogan the catchy phrase, "There's something in it for you," which its managers declare is entirely descriptive of the fair.

"Something for everybody" is the fair's motto, and the exposition people are putting forth every effort to make it a reality.

Plans for the fair go rapidly forward, and it promises to be the largest event of the kind ever conducted in Florida and gives promise of attracting a record-breaking attendance.

At this year's fair more Florida counties will have exhibits than ever have displayed AT ANY STATE FAIR IN THE SOUTH.

In addition, there will be many community exhibits competing for the prizes and trophies announced for this class of displays.

The fair's premium list and catalog are just off the press and are being distributed. They show the largest total of prizes and premiums ever offered by any Southern fair and present unusual inducements to exhibitors.

Or The Lobster State.

A New York newspaper proposes to divide that State into two States—with the idea, it is supposed that one of the two shall be named the State of Inebriety.—Mergenthaler Lines O' Type News.

Cracker Ingenuity.

A Georgia Cracker who operates a dairy in Kissimmee raised a patch of watermelons last summer and fed them to his milk cows, thereby saving large municipal water bills. Furthermore, the melons improved the flow, appearance, and taste of the milk. This dairyman's advertisement now reads:

"Cream de la Watermelon."

EDITOR'S LIFE IS NOT A BED OF ROSES.

The bed of an editor is not in truth, a bed of roses.

If he criticizes, he is called a knocker; and if he doesn't, he is branded a coward and his paper is said to be a "kept" journal.

He has to suit everybody, including his wife, his banker, his pastor, and "the boys" he sees Saturday nights.

HE CAN DO AND SAY THE RIGHT THING A MILLION TIMES WITHOUT A WORD OF APPROVAL, BUT IF HE MAKES ONE BLUNDER, IT TAKES A LIFETIME TO LIVE IT DOWN.

Except for these little things it's a grand and glorious life.—Midwest Printer.

The third Red Cross membership roll call will take place in November, when it is desired to have its memberships renewed throughout the nation.

According to the Lakeland Star, the strike of phosphate miners in Polk county is resulting in considerable scrapping between the strike-breakers and an occasional union man.

Andrew Carnegie, the great steel magnate, died Aug. 11 at the age of 89 years. He gave millions of dollars to establish public libraries, which store-rooms of knowledge will remain lasting monuments to his memory.

The Prince of Wales is expected to arrive in the United States several days hence for an extended visit. Many of our most prominent citizens may be expected to lay their "democracy" on a pedestal to lay their "democracy" on a pedestal.

BAPTIST CHURCH SERVICES.

Religious services at the local Baptist church were well attended last Sabbath. Special music was rendered by the choir and Miss Akerman, who is visiting at the home of Mrs. Irvin Mann, on Pennsylvania avenue. The Sabbath school was well attended.

Owing to the absence of Dr. M. P. Foster, there will be no sermon services next Sabbath morning. The Sabbath school will meet at the usual time, 10 a. m., and disbanding in time to allow those who may wish to do so to attend services at the other churches.

DEER PARK STOCK FARM TO RAISE PURE-BRED CATTLE

G. W. Hopkins and W. H. Kempfer have purchased all of the herd of pure-bred and grade cattle owned individually by Attorney Pat Johnston of Kissimmee, who is one of the best-known cattle raisers in Florida.

The herd comprises 340 head, more than half of the animals being Aberdeen-Angus and Brahma stock and the balance being range cattle.

Mr. Johnston retains his interest in the Deer Park Stock Farm. Mr. Hopkins resides in Michigan, but spends much of his time at Eau Gallie, Fla., and owns extensive lumber and land interests in Osceola and Brevard counties, including a railroad from Deer Park to the East Coast seashore. Mr. Kempfer is his manager at Deer Park, which is only thirty-two miles east of St. Cloud and in Osceola county.

Messrs. Hopkins and Kempfer will use the pure-bred Aberdeen-Angus cattle in breeding pure-red animals, for which purpose they purchased also four head of registered Aberdeen-Angus from J. J. Logan of the King's Road Stock Farm, near Jacksonville, Fla.

NEW MEMBER IN FIRM OF ST. CLOUD BUSINESS.

W. D. Eiselenstein of Mechanicsburg, Ohio, soon will join his brother, D. P. Eiselenstein, in conducting the undertaking business formerly operated here by C. E. Carlson, the two brothers having acquired the entire Carlson interest in the business, which is located on Massachusetts avenue, next door to G. A. R.

W. D. Eiselenstein, who is to arrive here at an early date, has been in the undertaking business about twelve years and has had wide experience in handling funerals and in embalming and shipping bodies.

Councilman George Barber, who has been assisting Mr. Carlson through the several months last past, will continue with the new firm and will give his personal attention to work during a part of every day.

Eiselenstein Bros. plan to have one of the firm at their office at all hours of day and night and to maintain a modern funeral equipment at the former Carlson establishment.

Calls for ambulance service anywhere in the county will receive prompt attention.

NEW YORKERS TAKE NOTICE!

OUR KISSIMMEE NEWS LETTER.

West, left for Arcadia this week.

Miss Albina Smith, county home-work demonstrator, returned Sunday from Tallahassee, where she attended a short session to which the home-work county agents and demonstrators throughout the State had been called to receive instructions in their field of work from a specialist from Washington. Miss Smith is one of the most aggressive and industrious county home-work demonstrators in Florida. Among her various useful activities she is giving much attention to bee culture. Her bee club numbers twenty-six members.

Friends rejoice in the rapid physical improvement of Miss Myrtilla F. Beals. Last winter her companion, Miss S. J. Carver, died of influenza. In June her father passed away. Within many months she has endured critical surgical operations. Despite these discouragements, her recuperation is almost marvelous. She will resume her work in music in the public schools here and privately this autumn. Her mother recently arrived in Kissimmee from their home in Maine.

Mrs. Gay Livingston and Claude Harper, with their children, are enjoying the waves at Sea Breeze.

Miss Elsie Norton and Cecelia Overstreet returned Friday from a wonderful trip which included the cities of the northeast and Canada and a series of lectures at Lake Chautauque, N. Y.

Miss Violet Bullock will leave Saturday for a trip north. She will visit her brothers Ned and Dick at Macon and Atlanta, Georgia, then go on to New York City to visit an aunt and await the arrival of her grandmother, Mrs. Cline of England. The grandmother comes to remain indefinitely with her daughter, Mrs. S. H. Bullock. England is Mrs. Cline's birthplace and also her home until now. Her children are widely scattered. One daughter lives in Australia, two daughters married Bullock brothers, one of whom lives in Kissimmee, the other in South Africa; a son-in-law in Seattle, Wash. Narcossee and Kissimmee friends will pleasantly recall the days when all of these people lived or visited here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Best are at Daytona Beach for a season. Mr. Best is one of the postoffice force in Kissimmee.

Elizabeth leave Saturday for an extended trip to North Carolina, remaining three or four months, or until snow flies.

Miss Helen Winn, youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Winn, returns Friday from Dayton, Ohio, where she has visited her grandparents, the Kings.

Mr. Newhouse, a well-known aged couple, are improving from serious falls. Mr. Newhouse became suddenly ill while walking across the floor. His wife in assisting him to rise fell and injured herself seriously. Their son, Dr. Frita Newhouse, of Rochester, Minn., was wired for. He returned homeward Wednesday of this week.

Miss Ella Mae Gilbert came down from Jacksonville, where she is employed in office work, for a vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gilbert.

Vern Wilson, one of our recent high school graduates, left Tuesday night to enter a university course in Toronto, Canada. He will visit an uncle in Washington on his way northward.

Miss Emma Yowell quietly slipped away for a well-earned rest this week. Miss Yowell is the popular principal of the primary department of the Kissimmee public schools.

Rev. C. H. Summers, former pastor of the Methodist church here, but now engaged in State Y. M. C. A. work, is in Kissimmee for a few days.

Miss Eleanor Moseley returns this Friday from Columbia University, in New York city.

Dr. O. B. Falls preached Sunday night on the theme "The Greatest Thing In The World: The Gift of the Son of God." It was his last sermon until his return, about November 1, as he began this week on the great drive in which Florida Baptists are expected to raise a million dollars in the next five years.

The Graystone hotel deal has been completed. Renovation of the entire building will now take place, refurnishing, etc., the beginning of real constructive work in the Kissimmee boom.

Kissimmee boasts of the largest fig tree in Florida. A tree that measures thirty-five feet in height and forty feet in diameter as to spread of its branches yielding a crop of 250 quarts of fine fruit this year. Big as is this tree, listen to this as to its owners—Mr. and Mrs. McPhatter: For years they have sold fruit from this tree, to their friends, allowing no one to have the bulk, but to each of many friends selling two quarts or five quarts at 10 cents a quart. An acquaintance said Mr. McPhatter: "Why don't you raise the price? Everything else has risen?" To which Mr. McPhatter replied: "Oh, no, they don't cost me any more than in previous years. The same generous sunshine and all pervading fresh air that produced them in other years remain. Why should I charge extra?" Or words to that effect. Thus another man shows his adherence to a commendable principle in religion and citizenship.

The Red Cross Society had left on its hands a quantity of yarn, outing flannel, bandage material, etc. The women intend to utilize these in some manner, possibly sell the yarn—probably make children's garments of the cloth and whatever the receipts may be, use it for civilian relief. Any one desiring information concerning this supply, wanting to purchase the yarn or material may address Mrs. G. W. Best, who, with some other women of the Red Cross, is taking the initiative in this matter.

As to improvements in civic matters, the city council inclines to business. As to tearing up bricks, it is often a conjecture whether sewer mains are laid before or after the paving, at the rate paving is piled up and laid down. Mr. Breaker says it is being done right this time.

A plan now is on foot to round the Chapter House grounds, thus eliminating a rather dangerous corner. The lot will be nicely curbed and a cement walk to the entrance of the chapel. The small triangle where Mabbette and Church streets meet will be made a grass plot, also concrete curbed, thus adding to the beauty as well as to the safety of the corner.

The J. Wade Tuckers motored to Jacksonville Thursday to meet their children who have been summering in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. F. G. Thomason's hosts of friends are delighted to know she is rapidly regaining her health.

Deceased—H. S. Bloodgood.

The many friends of Mrs. F. J. Van Duzor of Kissimmee, widow of a G. A. R. comrade, are saddened because of her recent bereavement in the death of her brother, H. S. Bloodgood, who died Tuesday, July 29, at the National Soldier's Home, Danville, Ill., where he had been but a very short time. The deceased had made his home in Harvey, Ill., for many years. He was born in Leitchfield, Pa., almost 79 years ago. In his youth he went to Wisconsin to live. When the country called for service he entered Co. E, 28th Wisconsin Volunteers, remaining in service until the conflict ended. Osceola county members of G. A. R. posts will recall Comrade Bloodgood's visit in Kissimmee four years ago, with his sister, Mrs. Van Duzor.

A beautiful Christian character was his—gentle and full of hope and trust. Among the blessed immortals now is he for life is eternal.

But two members now remain of the old influential Bloodgood family. Our Comrade, Mrs. Van Duzor and a brother in Harvey, Ill.

The father was a widely known influential Methodist minister, the mother a rare consecrated spirit. One of the older sons, Rev. J. D. Bloodgood an author, minister and for thirty years an official in the pension bureau in Washington, leaves as pre-empting book, "Personal Reminiscences of the War."

Down through more than a century and for years to come the Bloodgood community has given and will continue to give its beneficent influence and helpfulness in that old Eastern Pennsylvania section.

For our bereft Mrs. Van Duzor, as shadows lengthen and memories rise, these lines no doubt express her emotions:

"I cannot think of them as dead
Who walk with me no more;
Along the path of life I tread
They have but gone before.
And still their silent ministry
Within my heart hath place,
As when on earth they walked with me
And met me face to face
Their lives are made forever mine;
What they to me have been
Hath left henceforth its seal and sign
Engraven deep within.
Mine are they by an ownership
Nor time nor death can free,
For God hath given to Love to keep
His own, eternally."

MEETING OF L. L. MITCHELL CORPS.

L. L. Mitchell Corps, Woman's Relief Corps, met in regular session Aug. 14, with President Julia B. French in the chair.

On account of our general afternoon rains, the officers' charges were omitted and the business was hustled thru. Mrs. Meatyard and Mrs. Riley were initiated into our order. Two others were elected to become members, and several applications for membership were presented and will be voted on at our next meeting.

From the report given by the chairman of the relief committee there is very little sickness in our town.

Several of our members expect to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R. at Columbus, Ohio, which will take place next month.

Thirty-two members and three visitors were present. Two of the visitors were comrades. We always are glad to have comrades meet with us, and we hope the time will come when members of the Woman's Relief Corps will be eligible to visit the post.

Mayor Bower denies he said "Get a rope!" at a City Council meeting this spring. I was not present at that meeting, but I took the statement of several responsible persons to the effect that he uttered the ejaculation. Others corroborate the mayor. I am making inquiry in the matter. If I find the mayor is correct, or that the question is one of doubt, I certainly shall publish a retraction next week.

The evening was devoted to music, recitations, and a general good time, after which delicious cakes and ice cream were served. The visiting friends left with wishes of Godspeed, for the travelers.

W. R. Godwin soon will announce as a candidate for Representative in the Legislature from Osceola county.

Comrade Spurlock died Sunday evening at his home, south of St. Cloud. Details of the funeral have not been made known.

Leon Godwin returned to his home yesterday, after spending several weeks in Jacksonville, where he worked at the barbering trade.

Charles Rothrock this week is tearing down the brick work which surrounded the steel oven on Pennsylvania avenue where the bakery was conducted before the big fire. This work is preparatory to enlarging the capacity of his bakery, on Tenth street. Ed Hedrick has taken a position with the Rothrock bakery.

Milford George met with a serious accident Wednesday evening while riding a motorcycle in the country, where he ran into a calf and was thrown to the roadway, sustaining painful but not serious injuries. The impact killed the calf, however. Milford says he will shy from any critter on four feet when he rides a motorcycle again.

Little Marion Conn, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Conn, was painfully but (it is believed) not seriously injured by falling from a second-story window of the Conn apartments to the concrete sidewalk on Tenth street Monday morning. The baby was on a bed adjacent to the one front window that does not open on the balcony, and it crawled to and thru the window and fell before help could reach it. Dr. Buckmaster attended the baby, and as the Tribune goes to press it is reported to be out of danger and improving.

WEDDING BELLS

A delightful wedding took place in our city Wednesday, Aug. 20, at the corner of Eighth street and Maryland avenue, when Rev. H. H. Bowen, pastor of the local Methodist church, united in marriage Mr. Alexander Ferguson and Mrs. Kitty Gertrude Campbell. The ring service of the Methodist church was used. Rev. J. B. Haner, pastor of the local Christian church, sang two solos and Rev. N. W. Beauchamp led in prayer.

After the ceremony and the usual felicitations, delicious refreshments of ice cream, cakes, and grapes were served.

About twenty guests were present to enjoy the auspicious occasion.

The bride has lived in St. Cloud some months and is known as one of the best churchwomen in the city, highly respected by all her acquaintances. Mr. Ferguson is well known as a straightforward and honorable man.

Examples Of Thrift Of Rural Community Boys

Top—Joe Stone, Jackson County, Georgia, boy, who won a free trip to Washington by his thrift in handling an acre of corn. He is shown here up to his neck in wheat. Bottom left—Lamar Mills, Fulton County, Georgia, boy, who made a net profit of $174.17 on one pig. Bottom right—Thrifty Southern boys selecting seed corn.

These three pictures illustrate one phase of the national movement to perpetuate the lessons of thrift impressed upon the American people by the emergency of the great war. In another generation Uncle Sam must take up the billions of dollars of securities floated to raise money for war purposes. The seeds of thrift are now being sown among the boys and girls who will be the men and women of the future so that the harvest of dollars may be reaped.

The youngsters shown here are members of the agricultural clubs of the South. They won distinction through their success with live stock, wheat and corn. By their thrift—industry, economy and good judgment—they earned money for Thrift and War Savings Stamps; to pay for college courses and to buy pigs and land. There are no finer examples of productive thrift than those furnished by the boys and girls of the corn, pig, canning and poultry clubs.

The work of these young folks is being made the model for thousands of others in Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana. The War Savings Organization is pointing to their efforts and saying to the boys and girls in the rural communities: "Follow in their footsteps—earn money for War Savings Stamps and other purposes by raising thoroughbred stock, producing the maximum yield from your acres of corn or wheat, by raising poultry and canning fruits and vegetables."

FLORIDA COTTON CROP

By Sam T. Fleming, State Field Agent of Department of Agriculture.

The condition of Florida's cotton crop is lower than it was a month ago, because of damage caused by heavy rains. On the best lands, the stalk has made a rank growth where well cultivated, but on the poorer lands, and where grass has not been kept out, the plant is stunted and off color.

Very few sections show prospects for anything like a normal yield. The boll weevil is present in great numbers under weather conditions that are ideal for its development.

July 25 the crop condition for the State was 50 per cent of normal compared with 57 per cent a month ago and 70 per cent July 25, 1918.

Based on this condition, and allowing about 5 per cent for abandoned acreage, it is estimated that 19,100 running bales will be produced, of which probably fewer than 2,000 bales will be Sea Island cotton.

Last year the State produced 34,961 running bales, of which 20,571 were Sea Island.

The Sea Island crop, which this year is planted almost entirely in Columbia, Hamilton, and Suwannee counties, evidenced a condition on July 25 of only 27 per cent of normal. On the same date in June the condition was 32 per cent of normal.

Short cotton July 25 showed a condition of 53 per cent of normal, compared with 60 per cent a month earlier. The condition of the crop by districts and counties July 25 follows:

Northwest Florida—Calhoun, 65; Escambia, 55; Gadsden, 50; Holmes, 55; Jackson, 60; Jefferson, 50; Leon, 50; Liberty, 45; Okaloosa, 60; Santa Rosa, 50; Walton, 65; Washington, 60. District's average condition, 57 per cent.

Northeast Florida—Baker, 40; Columbia, 40; Hamilton, 57; Lafayette, 60; Madison, 65; Nassau, 40; Suwannee, 51. District's average condition, 50 per cent.

Central Florida—Alachua, 17; Bradford, 12; Clay, 40; Hernando, 50; Lake, 75; Levy, 30; Marion, 60; Pasco, 62; Putnam, 40; Sumter, 50. District's average condition, 45 per cent.

For the United States, the cotton crop shows a condition of 67.1 per cent, compared with 70 per cent a month earlier and 73.6 per cent a year ago.

Based on this condition, production is estimated at 11,016,000 bales. Last year, production was 12,040,000 bales; two years ago, 11,302,375 bales; three years ago, 11,449,930 bales; four years ago, 11,191,820 bales; five years ago, 16,134,530 bales.

TEACH LOYALTY TO FOREIGNERS

FORD ENGLISH SCHOOLS INCU-
CATE PRINCIPLES OF PURE
AMERICANISM IN STUDENTS.

TRIAL DRAWING TO A CLOSE

Attorneys Begin Final Arguments
After Ford Counsel Presents Dramatic Testimony On Educational Work.

Mt. Clemens, Mich.—Henry Ford's counsel kept until the final day on which testimony was presented, the strongest arguments in their possession. Not until the trial was within a few hours of its close did they bring to the witness stand Clinton C. DeWitt, superintendent of the Ford English school.

"Mr. Ford," said the witness, "was of the opinion that you could not successfully put over one idea while there were 52 languages spoken in the factory, so to promote that one idea, which was and is Americanism, he insisted that every workman must learn to speak the 'American'—not the English—language."

"There were 3,000 students in the school before the United States entered the war and the factory was practically turned over to government work."

Sample lessons were read by the witness. Parts are given as follows: "Every good American loves and respects the United States flag."

"Our flag stands for liberty, justice and peace."

"Its colors are red, white and blue. The red stands for love, the white stands for purity, the blue stands for truth."

"American flags," said the witness, "were used profusely in the school room and a silk flag always flutters before an electric fan."

Teach Americanism.

The men are taught that there is no greater title than "American citizen" and are urged to accept the advantages of education offered by this country so that they may fit themselves, through knowledge, to defend their liberties.

Pictures of great Americans adorn the class rooms, special exercises are held on the birthday of great leaders of the nation and finally, when the class graduates, it is presented with souvenir American flags and is given membership in what is known as the "American Club." The Federal and state courts recognize a diploma from the Ford English school as an evidence of adequate preparation for citizenship, it was shown.

Through this testimony counsel sought to bring out that the man who taught 3,000 foreigners to love their adopted country and to respect its flag could scarcely be called an anarchist and that a man who sought every possible method to instill love for the Stars and Stripes in the hearts of those who come to it from foreign shores, could never have made the slanderous statements attributed to him by Tribune counsel.

Mr. Ford, it was shown, loaned all his educational workers to the government at the time war broke out. The war department found the methods used in the Ford English school so valuable that they introduced them in all training camps. Henry Ford paid the salaries of the men he loaned to the government for the work.

Closing Arguments Open.

Closing arguments in the case opened the last of the week. Attorney Wm. Lucking led off for Ford counsel. He called attention first to the testimony which showed that The Tribune, hot for invention in Mexico because it thought such action would lead to conquest or at least to great riches for the United States, had found Henry Ford blocking its path just when its long campaign gave promise of bearing fruit. Thereupon, said the attorney, The Tribune set out to destroy Mr. Ford's influence, to sweep him out of its path and to still his voice which pleaded for a course which would help the bleeding republic to the south to regain her feet and to strike forth on a new highroad of education and freedom.

Attorney Weymouth Kirkland opened for The Tribune. He declared that what Mr. Ford had done since 1916—when The Tribune called him an anarchist—had nothing whatever to do with the situation as it was when the newspaper stigmatized the manufacturer as an enemy of his country. He did not deny that Mr. Ford had done an immense and valuable work for the government during the war but he claimed that this did not alter the facts as they were before war broke out. Mr. Ford, the attorney insisted, was an anarchist at the time The Tribune described him as such, and the truth he said was sufficient justification for the attack.

Water and the Human Body.

The specific gravity of water and the human body is virtually the same. A body in the water is supported by equal pressure at all points. It is more likely to be at ease than under other circumstances. It is, therefore, more likely that it may move without pain. So cripples are often given their exercise in the water.

Your enjoyment of Camels will be very great because their refreshing flavor and fragrance and mellowness is so enticingly different. You never tasted such a cigarette! Bite is eliminated and there is a cheerful absence of any unpleasant cigarette after-taste or any unpleasant cigarette odor!

Camels are made of an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos and are smooth and mild, but have that desirable full-body and certainly hand out satisfaction in generous measure. You will prefer this Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

Give Camels the stiffest tryout, then compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price for quality, flavor, satisfaction. No matter how liberally you smoke Camels they will not tire your taste!

tion of the "reds" and the bomb outrages taking second place.

Now things are to go at a faster speed than ever, and orders have been given to hurry the food investigation so that when the proper legislation is enacted there will not be a moment's delay in having whatever "teeth" there maybe in the measure to begin biting in such a snappy way that profiters will be running for cover and giving up the ghost.

The Department of Justice is working twenty-four hours a day with all the force of employees at its command. Their number will be steadily increased as their fitness for special and confidential work can be ascertained.

There is talk of creating a special bureau, independent of the Department of Justice, to carry out the laws of Congress on its food-prices plans; but the claim is made in many quarters that a special bureau always would be in clash with the department and that the confusion resulting would be a detriment—a case of too many cooks.

No criticism is heard as to the work and the endeavors of the Department of Justice. Its wheels are moving smoothly and effectively.

Protecting Agriculturists From Pests.

Quietly and surely and covering a long period of time, the experts of the Department of Agriculture have been making a special study of the problem as to protecting farmers and fruit growers from the very large number of diseases affecting orchard and forest trees, cereals, vines, and field and garden vegetables.

Discovery has been made that most of these diseases originate abroad. They are introduced sometimes thru nursery stock and sometimes thru seed, and in other cases their origin is unknown. The losses they have caused to farmers are incalculable and likely will continue thru many years.

Work of the experts has resulted in strict regulations against importing seed rice and for strict supervision of all imported species and varieties of wheat, oats, and rye, from all countries.

The work of guarding the United States against plant as well as human diseases is most important, and the efforts of the department's experts are receiving the highest commendation. President Wilson Is Expert Typist.

Should President Wilson lose his job or have to seek work, he doubtless could hire out as a typist. He long has made a practice of writing state papers and messages on his typewriter, rather than dictate them to a stenographer or use pen or pencil. He even types many of his letters, the most of his routine correspondence he dictates.

He typed his message to Congress on the food situation, working until after midnight, and his work was almost perfect according to the typewriters at the Government printing office, who set the message into type direct from his manuscript. It consisted of twenty-seven sheets of ordinary typewriter paper and contained between 5,000 and 6,000 words.

When President Receives Diplomats.

It always is an interesting sight to witness the reception by the President of a new diplomat when the latter presents credentials from the government he represents.

Three new diplomats were received at the White House within a week—from Hayti, Salvador, and Persia. The envoy from Finland is waiting word as to the day and hour for his reception.

The ceremony takes place in the East room of the White House. It is a great event in the life of the diplomat, but it is a routine duty for the President, who always makes a set speech of welcome in expressing the friendly feeling that he knows exists between the United States and the country represented by the envoy. The President also expresses a personal wish that the stay of the diplomat in Washington will be a most pleasant one.

The important reception will be that when friendly relations are resumed between the United States and Germany and the new German Ambassador presents his credentials to the President.

No Election Until Court Acts

ance with the terms of the ordinance relied upon in the alternative writ, as well as by the mayor.

18. The court erred in granting the motion for a peremptory writ before the time for the performance of the duty required of the mayor by such peremptory writ had elapsed and default occurred.

Statement: The above reference to findings refers to the effect of rulings, and not to specific findings, in the paragraph.

And because of said errors, the said defendant asks that the final judgment in this cause be reversed and set aside and the cause returned to the lower court for further proceedings in accordance with law.

Miles Says He Discovered Remedy For Tuberculosis

James B. Miles, who until recently conducted an undertaking establishment in this city, but who has sold his business, believes he has discovered a remedy that at least will bring great relief and probably cures in cases of tuberculosis.

While Mr. Miles has not pretended to pose as a specialist in medicine, nor even as a physician, he says he has rendered relief to several cases of tuberculosis in this vicinity in a measure that causes him to conclude that he has made a valuable discovery.

What may prove, in all probability, to be among the greatest of scientific discoveries is a simple treatment that, Mr. Miles claims, can be used without danger to any patient infected by tubercular germs. This he has worked out from experiments thruout several months.

One case of tuberculosis illness in particular that shows great improvement is that of George Saunders, who virtually was given up to die more than three years ago by some physicians.

Mr. Saunders has been living in the pine woods at the north end of Alligator lake thruout the several years last past, and at times he has been in a serious condition. Mr. Miles was requested by some friends to see what he could do in the matter a few weeks ago, and Mr. Saunders bears witness today of the effects of the treatment.

We understand the treatment is not a medicine to be taken internally, but just what it is we are unable to state. Mr. Saunders, however, has been in a condition thru the last several weeks that is better than he has experienced at any time within years, and he believes he will be altogether cured of his ailment.

Mr. Miles has reported the matter to high medical authorities and has asked that a thorough investigation of his discovery be made, in the hope that he can succeed in placing his treatment where the general public may obtain its benefits.

WARM WINTER IS PREDICTED FOR FLORIDA

We Crackers say: "Full lakes, warm winter."

If this be true, Florida, and central Florida in particular, will enjoy a winter which will rival those of the torrid zone; for not in years have the lakes in this locality been as high as they are today. Lake Highland, which provides this city's water supply, is the highest, we are informed, it has been in years.

While Miami and other cities are advertising "bad water," Orlando can boast of the purest, most healthful, and most palatable water in the State.—Orlando Reporter-Star

STOCK OF LUMBER FOR SALE.

I am nearing the three-quarter mark in life with the infirmities of age creeping onto me, and I wish to release some of my activities.

I therefore offer a modest retail stock of lumber and building material for sale and to rent my yards and buildings for a term of years.

This business has been very profitable in the past, and now, that the embargo on building has been lifted, business in this line looks very promising the coming winter.

Many inquiries are coming in, and among them some very good buildings are indicated.
